

Young Engineers and Scientists Fellowship

The YES Fellowship includes a six-week summer work term and a $3,000 award upon completion of the work term. The Fellowship offers an opportunity for BC secondary school graduates passionate about science to experience a real-life research environment. It is intended to motivate them to pursue a research career, especially physics and the life sciences.

TRIUMF, Canada's particle accelerator centre, is located on the south campus of the University of British Columbia. It is home to the world's largest cyclotron accelerator and smaller isotope-production cyclotrons to support a diverse program of world-class research in nuclear physics, particle physics, molecular and material science, applied technology, and nuclear medicine. In addition, TRIUMF acts as an infrastructure lab for international collaborations around the world. For more information, visit www.triumf.ca

LifeSciences BC is a non-profit, industry association which supports and represents the life science community of British Columbia through leadership, investment, advocacy and promotion of our world-class life science community. LifeSciences BC undertakes numerous initiatives including; local, national and international partnerships helping to facilitate investment and global partnering opportunities while nurturing economic development in B.C. through the life sciences industry.
